VICTORIA CROSSES—FOR VALOUR.

Riband (Army)—Red.

- 218 Awarded to Gunner William Conolly, Bengal Horse Artillery, for his Gallantry in Action with the Enemy at JHELUM, 7th July, 1857. 1

* * * The following Extract from Carter's "Medals of the British Army" is interesting in connection with this Medal (3rd Section, pp. 176-177. "Lieutenant Cookes, Bengal Horse Artillery, reported that: 'About daybreak on that day (7th July, 1857) I advanced my half troop at a gallop, and engaged the enemy within easy musket range. The sponge-man of one of my guns having been shot during the advance, Gunner Conolly assumed the duties of second sponge-man, and he had barely assisted in two discharges of his gun, when a musket-ball through the left thigh felled him to the ground. Nothing daunted by pain and loss of blood, he was endeavouring to resume his post, when I ordered a movement in retirement, and though severely wounded, he was mounted on his horse in the gun-team, and rode to the next position which the guns took up, and manfully declined going to the rear when the necessity of his so doing was represented to him. About eleven o'clock A.M., when the guns were still in action, the same gunner, while sponging, was again knocked down by a musket-ball striking him on the hip, thereby causing great faintness and partial unconsciousness, for the pain appeared excessive and the blood flowed fast. On seeing this I gave directions for his removal out of action ; but this brave man, hearing me, staggered to his feet, and said, ‘ No Sir, I’ll not go there while I can work here ; ’ and shortly afterwards he again resumed his post as sponge-man. Later in the afternoon of the same day my three guns were engaged at one hundred yards from the walls of a village with the defenders, namely, the 14th Native Infantry, mutineers, amid a storm of bullets, which did great execution. Gunner Conolly, though suffering severely from his two previous wounds, was wielding his sponge with an energy and courage which attracted the admiration of his comrades, and while cheerfully encouraging a wounded man to hasten in bringing up the ammunition, a musket-ball tore through the muscles of his right leg ; but with the most undaunted bravery he struggled on ; and not till he had loaded six times did this man give way, when through loss of blood he fell in my arms, and I placed him on a waggon, which shortly afterwards bore him in a state of unconsciousness from the fight.”

219 Lance Corporal Sinnott, 84th Regt. 2

* * * “ For conspicuous gallantry at Lucknow, on the 6th of October, 1857, in going out with Sergeants Glinn and Mullins, and Private Mullins, to rescue Lieutenant Gibaut, who, in carrying out water to extinguish a fire in the breastwork, had been mortally wounded and lay outside. They brought in the body under a heavy fire. Lance-Corporal Sinnott was twice wounded. His comrades unanimously elected him for the Victoria Cross, as the most worthy. He had previously repeatedly accompanied Lieutenant Gibaut when he carried out water to extinguish the fire.” See Carter’s “ Medals of the British Army,” 3rd Section, page 173 ; also his Long Service and Good Conduct Medal.
